

Wonsie specializes in adaptive clothing onesies for older children through to large adults. The Wonsie sizes start where most brands finish.

The clothing is designed to prevent unwanted, challenging behavior.

These onesies have been particularly popular with children with special needs and those in aged care. They are also great for toddlers who are simply too tall for store bought onesies to keep tummies and backs warm in winter and to keep that nappy on! Best of all, they are designed to look like regular clothes, just like their peers, so no one will know.

The Tummy Access Wonsie is perfect for anyone who is tube fed, use a catheter or has medication administered via the abdominal region. They feature a soft and discreet opening which can be opened or closed.

There are many reasons why Wonsie customers love the soft cotton bodysuits.

- they help to keep wandering hands out of briefs / diapers / nappies and incontinence pads
- deter inappropriate undressing
- keep curious fingers out of feeding buttons/PEG tubes
- prevents eczema sufferers from scratching tummies
- maintain a warm layer under clothes and anything else which requires top to bottom coverage
- great for keeping people in wheelchairs comfortable and covered too
- full range which includes specialized styles for tube feeding and back zips for those who like to escape out of clothes

The popular Back Zip Wonsie has longer legs and an off-centered back zipper and sizes which goes up to a large adult. This jumpsuit style onesie is perfect to challenge any expert undresser. It also doubles as a pajama at night-time.

Dress it up or down, our Wonsie bodysuits are designed to look...
